

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cas-estimating desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

To the friends of Humanity.

AN aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwiler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS—
With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike-land and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.— The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stettler, Alexandria, or to

PROPOSALS

for publishing by subscription, a new work, entitled

THE TREASURY OF HEALTH;

A complete collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, for the cure of all diseases, wounds and other accidents to which the human body is subject; with the method of preparing, and instructions for using, the necessary remedies.
Also, the best preservatives against the plague, small pox, and all other kinds of contagious diseases.—Discovered after much research and experience by the most skillful physicians in Europe, and employed with the greatest success; and unknown till the present time in the United States.

Carefully collected, by a Benevolent Society, and faithfully translated from the French, and other foreign languages,
And published for the benefit of humanity,
BY LEWIS MERLIN.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The work which is this day offered for public usefulness, ought not to be looked upon as those which a desire of gain bring forth every day among us. This is a rare and precious collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, which the most skillful physicians have discovered after long researches, labor and experience. It is, without contradiction, the first of the kind that has ever appeared within the United States of America, and a treasure which every head of a family could not too much appreciate; as it points out the symptoms of several diseases, of which many persons are only acquainted with their names; 2d, the receipt of the quantity and quality of the drugs that are made use of; 3d, their preparations so carefully described and detailed that the least intelligent person cannot be mistaken; and finally the necessary doses and the manner of administering them.
One may rest assured that all in this collection is easy to put into practice, the expense is trifling because all the simples and plants which compose the greatest part of the recipes it contains, may be found in the fields and in the gardens; in a word, that it affords the means of curing, in a short time, all the diseases and evils with which man may be afflicted, and at a low expense.

It is to a benevolent society we are indebted for such a precious treasure.
Their whole good wish towards suffering humanity, induced that society to spare neither pains, care nor expense in obtaining from all parts of the globe, and to give in one and only collection, a valuable and complete selection of receipts for the cure of all diseases with which the human body is every day afflicted, which their renowned virtues, the repeated experience that has been made of them, even on patients who had been given up by their physicians, and the cures resulting from them, have caused them to be adopted as sovereign and infallible remedies.

Amongst the great number of diseases that have been cured by these inestimable secrets, we shall only name some of them, of which the foreign journals and American newspapers have borne the most authenticated testimony, such as apoplexy, asthma, bilious, windy and nephretic colic, consumption of lungs, debility, dysentery, diarrhoea, dropsy in the breast, in the brain, compound dropsy, anar-sarque of ascites, epilepsy, diseases of the eyes, intermittent, tertian, quar-tan, continual and inflammatory fevers, malignant, spotted and scarlet fevers, hives (so fatal to children), inflammation of the bowels, of the liver and lungs, gangrene, itch, jaundice, fits, hooping-cough, lethargy, leprosy, rheumatism, pulmonary, scurvy, swellings, sore throat, worms, tape-worm, complaints of the bowels, looseness or bloody flux, folly or madness originated after a sequel of disease, or through an intemperate use of spirituous liquors, cold and scia-tique gouts, gravel, gonorrhoea, hydrophobia, bite of venomous animals, hemorrhagy, palpitation of the heart, stone, &c. &c.

This precious collection contains likewise a great number of receipts for preparing several kinds of balsams, ointment or salves, with the effects of which are so surprising, that they cure in a very short time, the cancer, without the assistance of any operation; the king's evil; tetter or ring's worm; wens; all sorts of cuts, wounds, however large and deep they may be, both inward and outward hemorroids, all pains and swellings arising from rheumatism, all kinds of burns, all catarrhs of the eyes, even those that deprive of the sight; all sores that come on women's breasts; all kinds of sore legs and ulcers, however old they may be; chancre, bu-boes, and other venereal disorders; they join the nerves again, when they have been cut or broken in any manner whatever; they strengthen weak nerves and prevent the palsy whenever one is threatened with it; they draw out broken bones and all other foreign bodies that may be in sores or wounds; in short, these ointments or salves do possess such a virtue against the gangrene; that many persons being at the point of having their legs, hands or fingers cut off, have been entirely cured by the application of these ointments alone.

In this interesting work will be also found the inestimable receipt of the grand preventives against the plague, pestilential, spotted and other fevers, small pox, and all kinds of contagious diseases; their preparations with the manner of making use of them both inwardly and outwardly, as well to preserve ourselves against the contagion as to be cured whenever one is afflicted with them; and wonderful and most valuable secrets in medicine —always employed with success, and never failed to cure in epidemic and contagious diseases, and unknown to the present time in the United States of America.

In short, the famous and renowned syrup of long life, or the great preserver of health, whose so extraordinary virtues have drawn the attention of a great number of physicians, although the desire of gain has endeavored to counterfeit or imitate it, but always without success. That receipt so very simple, so very easy to prepare, and of a good taste, was given by an old gentleman of one hundred and thirty-two years of age, who began to make use of it at the age of 60 without his having ever experienced the least inconvenience. The good effects which this simple receipt has always produced on the persons who have made use of it are so well known that no more need to be said on that subject; and although this work contains a great number more of other receipts and other matters not less interesting for the human body, we shall not dwell any longer on the benefits arising to the public out of this precious collection; because it is only by putting what is taught in it into practice, that the public will be convinced of the truth that there is no quackery nor deception in all that has been said, but many truths which could not be too much appreciated.

We recommend this work to heads of families, more particularly to those who reside in the country, who owing to their situation are often deprived of medical assistance in cases of the most urgent necessity; it is likewise of the greatest utility to those who through their profession are obliged to visit the sick; as also to the ministers and pastors of congregations, who in their situation are likewise obliged to afford relief to suffering humanity; in short, it could not be too much recommended to captains, masters of vessels, seafaring men and other travellers, who frequent warm climates, as well as to those persons who have a desire to preserve their own health; so much the more, as (we repeat it again) that all therein contained is easy to put in practice, and the expense is small.

As the publication of this work is not an object of a pecuniary speculation, but the welfare of humanity generally, we have endeavored, as well as the expense has permitted, to fix the price of subscription as low as possible, in order that the poor as well as the rich may be able to obtain it, and experience its good effects principally in warm seasons, and in cases of contagious diseases.

CONDITIONS.

To render this work more portable, and comply with the wishes of many persons, it will form a large volume in 12mo. to be printed on good paper and good type, and delivered neatly bound and lettered in subscribers at 150 cents, to non-subscribers, the price will be enhanced to two dollars, and the profit arising from it will be for the benefit of the poor.

As soon as the subscription will be sufficient to defray the expense of printing, the work will be put to press and distributed as soon as circumstances will permit.

To prevent counterfeiting this work, the copy right has been secured according to law; and moreover each copy shall be signed by the person who has the sole direction of superintending the publication of it.

From the Boston Intelligence.

"GOD IS THERE."

The following sacred melody was written by a lady of Boston, and originally sung at the Oratorio performed by the Handel and Haydn Society.

Life's gay spring, enchanting hours,
When every path seems deck'd with flowers!
Then folly in her giddy round, Presents the cup with pleasure crown'd;
When love, and joy, and young delight,
Drive to the moments rapid flight—
Torch not the cup, avoid the snare—Where'er thou art, think God is there!

When manhood steps with tread secure,
Then mad ambition throws her lure.
Behold! up glory's dangerous steep,
Where widows mourn, and orphans weep,
And laurels on the hero's head
Are stain'd with blood a crimson red;
Then, ere the battle's rage you dare, Pause, and reflect that God is there!

When age, approaching, warms the heart,
And avarice plays its niggard part;
When self-love every passion stills,
And every finer impulse chills;
When to a suffering brother's cry
It shuts the heart, the ear, the eye—
Think, ere you leave him to despair, God will avenge, for God is there!

And thou, who through life's thorny road, Perplex'd by care and sin, hast trod;
Whose heart hath bled, whose eyes have wept
On pleasure's couch while others slept;
Thou now on life's remotest brink,
Poor humble Christians! do not shrink;
Thou' deep the flood, each doubt forbear—Strong to support, thy God is there!

CURIOUS MAIDEN SPEECH.

The Earl of Carnarvon, was a peer in the reign of Charles the Second, and the deliverer of a curious and singular speech in the House of Lords, preserved by Tor-buck, in his parliamentary debates.

This harangue was singular, not only from the circumstances by which it was preceded and followed, but in the literal meaning of the words, for it was the first and last time this nobleman ever addressed the House.

Having dined with the DUKE of Bucking-ham, and other bona vivants, who circulated the bottle briskly, Lord Carnarvon, in the buoyancy of high spirits, or the restless rashness of intoxication, made a considerable bet with the favorite, that he would speak in an important debate which was expected to come on that very day, in the House of Lords, on the subject of a proposed impeachment of the Earl of Danby. The wager was confirmed by half pint bumpers, and the joyous party repaired to the scene of action; the debate had commenced before they entered, but Lord Carnarvon catching the speaker's eye at the moment of a peer's sitting down, who had concluded his speech with a Latin quotation, thus began:

"I understand little of Latin, my Lords, but a good deal of English, and a little bit of English history, which has taught me the mischief of such prosecutions and the general fate of the prosecutors. I can bring many instances in support of my assertion, and from very ancient times, but I will go no farther back, my Lords, than the reign of Queen Elizabeth. At that period the Earl of Essex was run down by Sir Walter Raleigh; Lord Bacon ran him down, and you Lordships all know what happened to his Grace of Buckingham. The Earl of Stafford ran down the Duke, and we all know what became of him. Sir Harry Vane ran down the Earl of Stafford; Chancellor Hyde ran down Sir Harry Vane, and your Lordships know what became of the Chancellor. Sir Thomas Osborne, now the Earl of Danby, ran down Chancellor Hyde; but what will become of the Earl of Danby, your Lordships best can tell."

As soon as the orator sat down, the surprised and disappointed Buckingham, who wished rather to ridicule than serve Lord Danby, stepped toward Carnarvon, and patting him on the back exclaimed, "the man's inspired—I've lost my money—my claret has done the business."

The celebrated Henderson was seldom known to be in a passion. When at Oxford he was one day debating with a fellow-student, who not keeping his temper, threw a glass of wine in his face. Mr. Henderson took out his handkerchief, wiped himself, and coolly said, "That, sir, is a disgraceful; and now for the argument."

A very respectable person informs that the juice of the cucumber will destroy bed bugs.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 29.

Mr. C. N. Buck, of Philadelphia, has been appointed by the Imperial city of Hamburg to be its Consul General in the United States, and he has been recognized as such by the President.

[National Intelligence.]

A London paper states, that Capt. Kotzebue, who has just returned from a voyage towards the North Pole, could not reach the lat. of 70—and considers it a circumstance unfavorable for the British expedition.

DISTRICT OF MAINE.

From some observations made on a journey to the district of Maine, and published in the Boston Gazette, we gather the following facts:

In 5 towns on Kennebec river, the joint population of which amounted to 9227, there are 7 banks, all within a short distance of each other.

A flour mill is in operation in the town of Gardiner, which produces flour equal in beauty and fineness to Baltimore superfine. Ten barrels are manufactured per day; the price is 10 dollars at the mills.

Bowdoin College in Brunswick, can send 60 students, and bids fair to be an honor to our country.

Two ships were building at Portland, intended for the India trade.

PENSACOLA.

Pensacola stands on the west side of the bay of that name. The harbor is rendered of little value from the great number of worms, which would destroy a vessel's bottom not copped in the course of 2 months. The entrance into the bay is defended by 2 forts. Vessels drawing 21 feet of water may enter the bay at all times. The population of West Florida is inconsiderable. From the city of Mobile and Tensas rivers, to the boundary, it is computed that there is not more than 40 families. The population of the cities of Mobile and Pensacola is estimated 1500. The upland of West Florida is generally of a very inferior quality. The river bottoms and flats are fertile, but too low and marshy to give much value to the province.

The above summary we have made from an article in the Washington Gazette.

PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE.

On Tuesday of last week, a child of fourteen months old, fell from the dormer window of a two story house in Greenwich-street, and struck upon the door of the cellar below, without receiving any other injury than a bruise on its shoulder. From this bruise, we understand the child has already perfectly recovered.

[New-York Commercial Advertiser.]

ANOTHER ESCAPE, EQUALLY PROVIDENTIAL.

On Saturday last, a gentleman of this city, with his little son was riding in a wagon, on descending ground near Kings-bridge, when the pin which secured the tongue flew out, and the wagon, pressing upon the heels of his horses, started them full speed. The gentleman, finding himself unable to control or guide the horses, and perceiving a rock in the direction they were pursuing, caught hold of his son, threw him out upon the grass, and immediately sprang from the wagon himself. He had scarcely reached the ground when the wagon struck the rock with a force which dashed it in pieces. In the wheel which first struck the rock, not a spoke was left unbroken. Neither the gentleman, nor his son, was materially injured. [Ibid.]

SINGULAR LAW CASE.

The plaintiff in this cause brought his action to recover damages, which he had sustained in consequence of the defendant's having falsely represented that the steamboat had arrived at Hanford's Landing, and a person on board, waited with anxious expectation to see the said plaintiff, whereby the said plaintiff was induced to hire a horse and wagon to go to said landing, for which he claimed damages of five dollars and fifty cents. The jury laid the damages at 30 cents, besides the costs.

[Rochester Gazette.]

We are sorry to learn, by a letter received yesterday, from our Boston correspondents, that the Old Serpent is not secured, as we were led to hope was the case, from the account received the preceding day, as published yesterday. That account was agreeable to the current rumor in Boston, just as the mail was closing, but on investigation it appeared that "the monster tore himself from the harpoon, and escaped with a severe wound, but without any of those appendages which would probably have been the means of his subsequent capture."

[New-York Mer. Adver., Aug. 25.]

FROM FRANCE.

The ship Maria Theresa, capt. Skiddy, which arrived yesterday, sailed from Havre on the 8th of July. The papers we have received, contain nothing of interest. We learn by the latest letters that the public sale of cotton which was opened on the 6th, was stopped, and postponed to a future day.

Mr. Joseph Lancaster, the celebrated teacher, has arrived in this city, by the Washington from London.

LORD BYRON.

This strange eccentric and wayward character has been amongst all ranks and classes the theme of conversation, of remarks, of review, of alternate censure and applause. His wonderful genius, it is much to be lamented, has given a sort of consecration to all the errors of his life. When we compare his earliest publications with his latest, we shall find every sentiment and opinion advanced in the former, with the exception of his infidelity, deliberately abandoned. He formerly reproached Walter Scott for writing for hire, and now this peer of the realm follows his example. He formerly censured the editors of the Edinburgh Review in terms of immeasurable asperity: after the revolution of a few years, he asks forgiveness of these very men, and takes them to his confidence and to his friendship. He formerly declared that the idol of his heart was slumbering in the grave and that his affections were entombed in the same sepulchre. Yet, after this solemn pledge and declaration have been given, he loves or at least marries, and as if to round the circle of contradictions, abandons the wife of his bosom. How shall such inconsistencies, such almost anomalies in the human character be accounted for? Perhaps they may be explained in this manner: the passions of the moment are the deities he worships. Led on by a frenetic impulse, he follows those blind guides, careless wherever they lead him, whether over mountain or moor, and as long as their dominion lasts, never stops or pauses to inquire whither he is going. The deity or rather the demon of the hour, has the sole and exclusive possession of his soul—after the reign of this transitory tyrant is abolished, he is succeeded by another who drives with the same unsparring violence to the end of his career, and then resigns his charge to another demon. Lord Byron is an example, and an awful example, of the dreadful slavery that a man is doomed to undergo, who resigns himself to the sway of his own passions—he is never himself, and it is no paradox to assert that he does not know what his own opinions are. The transitory assents that take alternately the possession of his soul constitute his only guides. Divine Providence, as if to leave a standing mark of the ignominy which attends servitude to the passions, has bestowed on their present victim all the brilliancy of genius. This heaven illuminated lamp shines in the hand of this madman with its brightest lustre. Thousands and thousands behold and admire the radiance of its beams, while the frantic possessor of the lamp runs wild as if he were driven by the furies. This lamp is not a guiding light—it is shaken by one insensible to the value of such a gift. Whether Lord Byron will still continue his impetuous career, is a question known only to the Deity; but we think the probability is that he will reform. Passions so intense as those that agitate the bosom of Lord Byron must be transitory—They burn too fiercely to remain of long duration. Should the term of his life be extended to the ordinary age of man, these passions must abate their vehemence. He will then see and lament his mad career—but what will repentance avail! The gift of heaven—the lamp of his genius will show to thousands yet unborn all the deformities of his character, every step and stage of his frenzied career. After these moral volcanoes have burnt out, we may hope that the lava will yet become productive. But if Divine Providence should in the hour of his reformation and amendment resume his gift—if he should remove "the lamp from its place,"—that then must be the sensation of the reformed prodigal after his return to his father's house!

Extract from the Log-book kept on board of the Buenos Ayrian brig Gen. San-martin, during her last cruise.
March 10, 1818—Spoke the brig Mexican-congress and American-libre; spoke with ten sail during the last 19 days. On the 30th were in sight of Bermuda. Spoke several vessels while cruising in the month of April: supplied the American ship Agawam, Wells, 107 days from Calcutta bound to Boston, and ship Solus, Narrad, from do. with provisions. April 14, still cruising off Bermuda, experienced a severe hurricane, which drove in part of the bulwarks; it continued to blow fresh until the next day, accompanied with rain and hail. 18th, the crew mutinied—they sallied aft, but fortunately the leader was instantly shot, and several others put in irons. 24th, went the boat ashore at Bermuda after some fresh provisions; understood there that the Spaniards had captured three American ships. Bermuda appeared to be a very handsome place, and very rocky. May 8, made the island of Barbadoes; was boarded by one of his majesty's boats belonging to a 64 gun ship; the harbor full of shipping—several men went on shore. Next day sailed for St. Bartholomews; arrived there on the 12th, sent a boat up to town for permission to enter, but was refused; came to anchor off the Five Islands, where we found admiral Bryon's fleet. Capt. Stafford went on board Gen. Aury's brig. 18th, discovered the Spanish fleet to windward, consisting of six sail—weighed anchor and put to sea; they gave chase, but we run out of sight of them before night. 19th, still in company with Bryon and Aury's fleet, anchored at Moro island, near Porto-rico, where we found five sail of patriot privateers—spent two days with the whole squadron, consisting of 19 sail. On the 22d, run down for the island of St. Domingo—lost one man ashore. On the 7th June anchored off Aux-cayes—the captain and Mr. Barber went ashore for provisions and liquor, where they remained three days, and returned with provisions. Dr. Gaul and Mr. Barker, passengers from Savannah, left the brig, one for the United States and the other for Jamaica. Messrs. Rapp and Morgan were also left ashore, they refusing to come off when the captain left. A few days after putting to sea, we captured a Spanish ship and scbr. put prize masters on board of them, then made sail for Port-au-Prince, where we arrived 25th of June—left there the 3d of July for Jerome. On the 6th, we captured a Spanish armed brig mounting 6 long 9 pounders and a compliment of 40 men; after taking out her guns and ammunition ordered her to St. Barts. We cruised off St. Jago de Cuba 8 or 7 days; was chased off by a Spanish frigate of 38 guns; she fired 3 shot at us but without effect—we got off clear. On the 4th of August we anchored at Port-au-Prince—the captain went ashore; at 8 o'clock the crew came aft, the officers being below except two, barred down the hatch and demanded the arms; after putting the officers under guard, cut the cables and stood to sea; the next morning they put the captain's clothes and part of the crew on board an American scbr bound to Port-au-Prince—then appointed 4 of the officers to navigate them to Savannah.

From the New-York Daily Advertiser.

Extract from the Log book of the scbr Eliza, Capt. Benjamin Brown.
Sailed from St. Jago de Cuba for Maracaibo, on the 24th June, having on board ballast and 60 barrels flour. On the following day, finding the vessel too light to carry sail, put into Cumberland harbor, took on board ballast, and sailed again. July 4, made the high land of St. Martha, and continued working to windward until the 7th, being about 12 leagues to windward of Rio la Hach, and distant 5 from the land. It must be observed, that in beating to windward on this coast, it is absolutely necessary to keep in shore, in order to avoid the effects of a strong lee current that universally prevails off the soundings on the coast. At 1 P. M. saw two small sail close in shore standing to the westward. About 2 P. M. they were within musket shot, and one of them, (which afterwards proved to be a prize to the other) fired a shot at us, upon which we immediately hove to;—when within hail, he with many menaces and abusive language, ordered us to hoist the boat out and bring our papers, and while getting her out, he kept up a continual fire of musketry. About the time the boat was in the water, the other vessel was in hail, and after firing several muskets, ordered the boat on board him. Capt. B. with his papers was proceeding on board the last mentioned vessel, when he was fired on by the prize, and on attempting to alter his course for the other, was again fired upon by the first, when he thought it safest to proceed to the nearest, which proved to be a Spanish privateer from La Hach, and the other a vessel they had captured, with a prize crew on board; while I was on board the privateer, the prize vessel being to windward of the Eliza, bore up with the intention of running us on board, standing ready with their knives and other weapons to jump on board; but by some cause or other they got entangled with our main boom, which they carried away close by the taffrail rail—did not effect their intention: they then were round for the second attempt and on closing, a man from her, endeavouring to jump into our main chains, fell overboard, and while one of our crew was in the act of assisting him on board, a man from on board the prize took deliberate aim at Mr. Isaac Williams, who was standing on the companion ladder with his head just in sight, and the ball entering his left breast, killed him on the spot. By this time our boat, with two hands, had pulled from the privateer, on board the prize, & brought a crew on board, who took possession of the vessel. Shortly afterwards, Capt. B. accompanied by the commander of the privateer, returned on board, leaving our two men on board the privateer, and the latter having left directions with his officer, returned to his vessel. He had scarcely left the vessel before they commenced plundering every thing they could lay their hands on; breaking open cases of liquor, robbing the people of their clothes, cutting the sails and rigging, and in fact every act of outrage that the most abandoned pirates would be guilty of.

About 9 in the evening we anchored in the roads of La Hach. At 10, the Custom House boat came on board, and learning our situation, they put a guard on board to prevent further outrage and plunder.

J. B. WINDRO.

Captain Symmes theory of the Earth, lately published at St. Louis, is not quite so novel, as is generally thought: the idea of the Globe being hollow at the poles, was suggested many years since. In a work published in Paris, by an anonymous writer, called "New conjectures on the Globe of the Earth," the author asserts, "that in examining the internal parts of the globe, it is not possible to doubt, but it is a composition of several beds of slime, arranged upon each other, by the waters of the rivers, and consisting of the substances which they contain, and which these rivers carry off from the rising grounds, in order to deposit them on their banks, or in the bottom of the sea, to which they run; that the globe of the earth was originally formed of a flat crust, composed of these depositions; that this crust being very thin (only two thousand three hundred and eighty fathoms thick) includes a very subtle air, is supported by the weight of a double atmosphere which surrounds it; that this equilibrium having ceased at the time of the deluge, this crust was broken and scattered; that its wrecks floated in the sea, as the clouds do in the air, and were heaped on each other, and in certain parts so accumulated as to form certain prominences; that our mountains proceeded from this; that by this subtraction from the crust of the earth, of the pieces by which the mountains were then formed, there remained vacancies in this crust two or three hundred leagues in diameter; that it is by the means of these apertures, that the seas of both surfaces of this crust, at present communicate with each other, that these seas enter by the poles into the cavity of the globe, and turning round this cavity in a spiral line, they come out between the tropics; that the entries of these waters from the external surface of the earth, and their departure from the internal to the external surface, are the causes of the flux and reflux of the sea, which are more sensible in one part than another, according to the position and largeness of the passages through which these seas enter or come out.—Pitts. The grounds to a great extent on each side of the main road from Smyrna, passing Caravan bridge, are used as depositories for the dead.

From the sombre and melancholy appearance of the forests of cypress trees with which they are covered, permitting only enfeebled rays of light to penetrate, added to the death-like stillness of the place, the mind is filled with gloom! It is, however, in some part dispelled, on reflecting that the silent tenants will there rest in peace, undisturbed by the present or future generations, not only from respect to their memory, but from religious prejudices, which prevent the disturbance of their relics in the prosecution of any interested speculation, so disgraceful, yet so common, elsewhere.

From a firm belief in predestination, the Turk gives himself no trouble relative to the past or present, and takes no precaution to avoid impending danger! He looks with contempt on the traveller who labors to discover the hidden ruins of antiquity, and smiles with disdain on the Frank, who imprisons himself for months to escape the dreadful ravages of malignant disorders.

Whether these feelings would be conducive to the general happiness of mankind or not, is uncertain; but with the exception of their total disregard to life, I think them enviable.

To this firm belief in predestination, may with safety be attributed the devastation made annually by the plague. The furniture, and wearing apparel of the deceased are publicly disposed of, and the purchaser makes use of both without the least regard to the inevitable consequences. From this circumstance, it may easily be conceived with what celerity the pestilence spreads, and the only method of avoiding it, is by voluntary imprisonment, or flying to the country beyond its reach.

It makes its appearance in swellings on different parts of the body. In a few days the patient becomes delirious, and death ensues. It is conveyed only by the touch, but such is the horror with which it is viewed, that Christians abandon their nearest relatives to the care of those who are proof against its effects, and allow them, with nature, to follow their own dictates.

About the time of the sun's making its appearance, large bodies of Mahometans visit the burying grounds, and there wait till the remains of their deceased friends are brought from the city. At this time 'tis extremely dangerous to pass—the road being thronged, and some of the populace having been known to cast the winding sheets of the dead, on the unsuspecting stranger who passed.

The bodies are brought on biers without coffins, and are deposited naked with the face downwards in the grave, and the mourners go about the streets, rejoicing that another of their kindred has changed this uncertain pilgrimage of life for a residence in a heavenly paradise, where all the happiness they knew on earth will be greatly enhanced, and where Houris, more beautiful than angels, will administer eternally to their pleasures.

At the head of each grave a stone is erected covered with hieroglyphics and surmounted by a turban cut from the same material or marble, and at each end a cypress tree is planted, which from time to time is watched with anxiety, lest its growth should be oblique instead of perpendicular. This sometimes happens, although very seldom; in which case, not all the philosophers of past ages, or those of the present, would be able to convince a Turk, but that the soul of the deceased had descended to the regions of eternal misery.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS.

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him; as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, and have the counterfeits on the District Bank. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

WASHINGTON DRANE

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public generally, that he has opened a house of entertainment at his new building, on the road leading from Georgetown to Leesburg, 15 miles from the former, and 15 miles from the latter place.—The house and furniture are new and elegant, and every attendance and requisite have been provided for the accommodation of either parties of pleasure or persons on business. There is an excellent spring of water on the place, excellent perhaps by none in the state of Virginia.—The distance from Georgetown, Washington or Alexandria, being an agreeable ride, he anticipates a share of public patronage, which he hopes his assiduity to business will justify merit.

ACADEMY.

THE subscriber most respectfully informs the inhabitants of Alexandria, that he will open an English, Mercantile, and Mathematical Academy at Mr. Radd's, Prince-street, a few doors west of the Farmers' Bank, where youth shall be instructed with care and expedition in the following sciences, in order to qualify them for the different departments of trade and business, viz. In the Mercantile, Naval, and Military line.—Reading; writing; arithmetic; English-grammar; book-keeping; geometry, both plane and solid; mensuration of surfaces and solids; trigonometry; both plane and spherical; surveying; gauging; navigation; dialing; use of the globes, maps, and geography; algebra; conic-sections; mechanics; gunnery; fortification; fluxions; astronomy; &c. &c.

Applications to be made to Mr. Guy Atkinson, Mr. Wm. Dunlap, or at the academy, where the terms will be made known.

The Academy will open on the 17th inst.

These being more closely connected with business than any of the above, occasioned the subscriber to point them out to the public. He also invites the learned to visit the academy at their convenience, and judge for themselves. On the first of October he will open an Evening School, for the accommodation of those whose employments prevent from attending during the day.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, living near New-Port, Maryland, on Friday, the 25th May, a Negro Man named GERARD, about 5 feet high, of a dark complexion, about 30 years of age, stout made, limps a little when he walks; had on when he went away a country cloth jacket and trousers about half worn and coarse hat, but he may change his dress, as he has free connexions a little below St. Thomas's Manor, at Nace Butler's. He has a wife at Thomas Jennifer's Quarters, near Port Tobacco, and calls himself GERARD BUTLER. He took a black mare with him, which he has since left at his father's, the said Nace's. He has been seen within a few weeks in Alexandria. Whoever takes up said Negro, and secures him in any jail so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward.

August 7 BENEDICT L. BOARMAN.

July 21 tuths

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the 3d inst. Negro JEM, about 5 feet 5 inches high, 25 or 26 years of age, stout and well made, except that he is perhaps a little knock-kneed; his complexion dark, has a large scar on the upper lip, occasioned, it is said, by his falling, when a child, on some edged tool; has a down look when spoken to, and is apt to be short and insolent in answering. The clothes he took with him are not recollected, except a red flannel shirt, a pair of Russia duck sailor's trousers, and a coarse wool hat with broad brim, nearly half worn. Having gone off without any provocation, it is probable his intention is to steer his course towards Baltimore or Pennsylvania, and pass for a free man. He has hailed the seine the two last seasons in Pomokeny, where he may have gone, or perhaps to Alexandria, where he is also a little acquainted. If taken 20 miles from home, or out of the county, I will give 20 dollars for securing him in any jail, or if taken 50 miles from home, or out of the state, I will give the above reward of fifty dollars.

Valuable Land at public sale. WILL be offered at public sale, on the premises on Wednesday the 2d of September, a valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, in Fairfax county, about 3 miles from the Little Falls Bridge, within 1-4 of a mile of the New Turnpike Road leading to Leesburgh. Upwards of 50 acres of this land is in original growth of Oak, Hickory, &c.; the balance recently cleared, 30 acres of which has never been in cultivation; the soil is fertile, and well adapted to plaster and clover; this valuable lot joins the lands of Richard Bland Lee, Esq. the Her. Wm. Maffit, and is a part of the tract belonging to the heirs of the late John Turberville. The sale to take place at 11 o'clock A.M. on the day above named, when the terms will be made known, or by previous application to Doctor Mottrorn Ball, Fairfax county, or to the subscriber in Leesburgh, Va.

PHILIP C. JONES, August 25

Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale a tract of 80 acres of land, on the Colchester road, five miles from Alexandria, adjoining the lands of Haywood Foote and Dennis Johnston. The greater part of this tract is a meadow land, abundantly supplied with water. Also one other tract of 261 acres, on the Ravensworth road, about 6 miles from Alexandria, and one mile from the first mentioned tract, adjoining land of Thos. Janney and Mr. M'Pherson: the greater part of this tract is in wood, the soil good and highly susceptible of improvement from the use of plaster. If these lands are not sold before the first of January next, they will then be for rent.

CHARLES SIMMS, June 27

Land for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell the lease which has 15 years to run, of a small Farm, at present occupied, lying on the turnpike road leading from Alexandria to Washington city, about half way between the two places, and adjoining the lands of Mr. George Wise and Alexander Hunter. The improvements are a snug small Dwelling-house and kitchen, good stables, a spring house and slaughter house, and all the useful tools therein for killing, together with a house with a large kettle for rendering neat's feet oil, which is a good business, if properly attended to, and may be made much more so by adding the glue-making, which may be easily done—there is also a good garden and a number of beehives. I will likewise sell a likely young Horse, that has been well broke to the saddle or any kind of harness, a light cart and harness, a first-rate milch cow, the farming utensils, and household and kitchen furniture of every description, some of which are very good. The whole will be sold for cash, or on a short credit. The lease will be sold with or without the other articles, and immediate possession given. If not sold prior to the 1st day of September next, the above described articles will on that day at 3 P.M. be offered at public sale on the premises—and if the lease is not sold, the farm will then be rented for one or more years. It is thought unnecessary to give a further description of this valuable property, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase or rent will view the property prior to that day, and it will be found very advantageous, as there are a number of articles on it which will be sold low and well suited to it. An early application is recommended and the whole will be sold a bargain.

Committed

TO my custody some time past as runaway, a Negro woman and two children. The Negro woman calls herself Ann Butler, and says she is free, and came from Nottingham in Prince George county upwards of seven years ago to this county, where she has lived as a free person ever since.—She is 5 feet 2 inches high, of a very dark complexion, and appears to be about 28 years of age—had on when committed an oxburgh shirt, an old white cotton petticoat, and a red calico frock. Her oldest child is a boy, who is called Thomas, of a dark complexion, and appears to be about 5 years old.—The other is a girl, who is called Ann, also of a dark complexion, and appears to be about 3 years old. The owner is desirous to come and take them away, otherwise they will be sold as the law directs, for their misdeeds, &c.

County of Alexandria, April Term, 1818. Henry Boswell vs. The representatives of John Webster, deceased, and against Rezin Webster.

ON the petition of Henry Boswell, a rule is granted him against the representatives of John Webster, deceased, and against Rezin Webster, to show cause on the 1st day of the next term, why a piece of ground situated in the town of Alexandria, late the property of William R. It is ordered, that this rule as to Rezin Webster, be published in one of the Alexandria papers for eight weeks successively. A true copy from the records.

March Term 1818. BILL IN CHANCERY.

Robert Perry vs. James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Blaxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

600 acres of Land for sale.

THIS tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equi-distant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES, Alexandria.

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wileys, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition.—For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, Esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES, March 30

Charles County Court,

March Term, 1818. ON application to Charles county court by petition in writing of John Smith, of Charles county, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said John Smith has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application, in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said John Smith is in actual confinement for debt, and the said John Smith having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles county court, to answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him.—It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the said John Smith be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the District of Columbia, once a week for two months successively before the third Monday of August next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause why the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO. THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology, therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo. THOMAS COOPER, M. D. CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a super-fine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12 to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

ANW ROUNSAVELL, Jailor. June 20

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges, Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions; feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known. Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebrator or large round worm; the Ascarides or small raw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

HAIN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
